

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Availability of services at Naples Municipal Airport

NAPLES, Fla. (Sept. 6, 2017) – In preparation for the arrival of Hurricane Irma, the Naples Airport Authority anticipates terminating all FBO services Friday, Sept. 8, 2017 at noon. Limited fuel and related services are available now until that time. Fuel and other services will not be available again until sometime after the storm. At this time, the airport (re: runways) are expected to remain open and be prepared for the recovery effort.

Please follow the guidance provided by local emergency management officials and be safe.
